Lady Devils rebuilding

For Rustburg coach Haywood McCrickard, 1982 will be a year of rebuilding on the Lady Red Devils varsity basketball team.

Last year's team, which finished with a 21-4 record and won the regional tournament, was all but decimated by graduation. Cindy Lewis, Sarah Jackson, Marjorie Dyke and Amanda Jackson, the squad's leading scorers, were all seniors who graduated after last year's season.

"They were all quick, and they'll be hard to replace," says McCrickard, who is starting his second year as coach of the girls' varsity basketball program at Rustburg.

Kathy Charlton, a forward, is the only returning starter from last year's squad.

McCrickard will be relying on last year's substitute players, and four girls up from 1981's junior varsity squad.

Guards Lisa Roberts, Yvette Rosser, and Judy Dixon; forwards Wendy Ward, Teresa Barbour and Joyce Sampson; and center Angie Jones are all returning from last year's Lady Red Devils squad.

Up from last year's junior varsity squad are Teresa Buchanan, Kim Lair, Angela Brown, and Cheryl Elliott.

"All of our returnees saw pretty much playing time last year," McCrickard notes. "But not necessarily as a team."

The coach says that the girls' inexperience as a team is the single biggest obstacle which he has tried to overcome in practice.

Another problem which the team faces this year -- one not necessarily typical of Rustburg teams, is lack of height.

But, according to the coach, the Lady Red Devils have worked hard and are eager to improve their

Joe Sweeney Classic set

An annual Autumn sporting event, the Joe Sweeney 10K Classic footrace, will get underway this year Oct. 9 in conjunction with the ninth annual Historic Appomattox Railroad Festival.

The race, is scheduled to begin at Appomattox County High School on Rt. 727 at 1 p.m.

With race time fast approaching, interest in the event is accelerating, according to Richard Smith, race director.

Trophies will be awarded to the first three finishers in each of the 15 age groups, according to Smith.

In addition, trophies will be awarded to the first two men and women from Appomattox who finish the race.

Race tee shirts will be provided for the first 200 runners to enter the race, Smith adds.

The race, which will begin and end at the ACHS track, will see runners grouped according to their expected times, Smith says.

The course will stretch through the rollings hills of Appomattox, and cover the AAU-sanctioned 10 kilometers (6.2 miles).

Entry fee for the race is $5 prior to midnight, Oct. 1, and $6 thereafter. Runners will be able to register the day of the race between 11 a.m. and noon according to Smith.

The race, named after Joe Sweeney, an Appomattox native who invented the five-string banjo, is being sponsored by the Farmers National Bank, according to Smith.

Archery has a new look

Babcock says.

Just as the equipment has become more refined, the sport of bowhunting has become more popular in Virginia.

It is a sport in which skill reigns supreme, and the archer who successfully bags a deer has something in which to be genuinely proud.

Deer, bear, turkeys and squirrels are in season for bowhunters from Oct. 9 to Nov. 6 in all counties open to fall hunting; and deer west of the Blue Ridge and in the counties of Amherst (west of Routen 29), Bedford, Campbell (west of Southern Railroad), Franklin, Henry, Nelson (west of Rt. 151), Patrick and Pittsylvania (west of Southern Railroad) from Nov. 29-Jan. 5.

The bag limit for deer is one per day, one per license year (either sex) in open counties with a one-deer limit, and one per day, two per license year (either sex) in open counties with a two-deer limit.

Game taken in the archery season must be included in the total permitted for the license year. Regular bag limits apply on bear, turkey and squirrel.

And remember, you must have a state hunting license and, for deer, bear and turkeys, a big-game stamp, before you hunt using any type of weapon.
